Continuation of 3. NOTE: Continuation of 3. NOTE: the proposed amendment changes the scope of independent claim 1 by a) removing the step that was introduced as a limitation after the first office action; b) by introducing the limitation that trifluoride does not contain hydrogen and nitrogen gases; c) by changing the preamble. Changes a) and c) require at least new consideration, change b) requires new search and consideration. Therefore, the amendment is not entered...

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: of the reasons set forth in the final rejection; Applicants' request to withdraw the finality is considered, but absolutely not persuasive. The excerpt from MPEP 706.07(a) that is TWICE repeated in Applicants' remarks, on page 11 clearly works against Applicants request to withdraw the finality, since it states that amendments such as incompleteness rejected under 112 paragraph can be reasonable expected by the Examiner to be overcome in Applicants' amendment. Nowhere in MPEP is found a statement that Applicants can bring ANY amendment that has never been recited in either of the claims, but is disclosed in the specification, among myriads of others. In this case Examiner cannot expect which of many parameters of the process described in the specification, Applicant would insert in the claims. Applicants' attention is drawn to 37CFR 1.113, "...While the rules no longer give to an applicant the right to "amend as often as the examiner presents new references or reasons for rejection," present practice does not sanction hasty and ill-considered final rejections. The applicant who is seeking to define his or her invention in claims that will give him or her the patent protection to which he or she is justly entitled should receive the cooperation of the examiner to that end, and not be prematurely cut off in the prosecution of his or her application. But the applicant who dallies in the prosecution of his or her application, resorting to technical or other obvious subterfuges in order to keep the application pending before the primary examiner, can no longer find a refuge in the rules to ward off a final rejection. Neither the statutes nor the rules of Practice confer any right on an applicant to an extended prosecution; Ex parte Hoogendam, 1939 C.D. 3, 499 O.G.3, 40 USPQ 389 (Comm'r Pat. 1939).

Applicants' request for reconsideration and Arguments are based on the proposed amendment that has not been entered. Therefore, the rejection is sustained per reasons addressed in the final office action..
